INAFSM Board of Directors Code of Conduct & Ethics Policies

INAFSM members who are elected or appointed to serve on the INAFSM Board of Directors in a voting or advisory role agree to adhere to the following code of conduct and ethics principles:

- When performing board duties, members will always keep the INAFSM mission and vision in focus.
- All board discussions on potential policies are to be held in the strictest of confidences with board members only until directed otherwise by the INAFSM chair.
- INAFSM board members are never to speak critically of board policies and procedures outside of board meetings.
- INAFSM board members should always be mindful that they are a representative of the board of directors, even when not officially performing their INAFSM duties.
- INAFSM board members understand that their position on the board is voluntary and that no financial favor can be gained by any means due to their board position.
- INAFSM voting board members understand that they should abstain from board votes that may be perceived as a conflict of interest.
