

INAFSM Board,

There have been two new Flood Inundation Reports published since the last meeting. The first is the White River at Noblesville, Indiana <https://doi.org/10.3133/sir20175123>. The second is North Fork Salt Creek at Nashville, Indiana <https://doi.org/10.3133/sir20175127>. As a reminder, these maps and previous maps can be viewed on the FIM Mapper at <http://wimcloud.usgs.gov/apps/FIM/FloodInundationMapper.html>.

Also, a new report titled "Vulnerable transportation and utility assets near actively migrating streams in Indiana" was published. This is the 3rd USGS publication for the Fluvial Erosion Hazard Silver Jackets project. The information can be found at <https://doi.org/10.3133/ds1068>.

Regards,
