Still trying to work through setting up a small learning session in the north region in conjunction with the northern region reps from APA-IN. Would like to do a Floodplain 101 type session and if any one knows a person in the northern part of the state (between Fort Wayne and South Bend) that might be willing to teach this type of session – not named Rodney (still working on him) – that name would be appreciated.

Also working on something to be added to the buck sheet for events about the floodplain committee. This is the start that I currently have:

“Exclusive access to the floodplain managers and professionals from across the state that have experience with a multitude of problems and situations related to the floodplain. Education opportunities at provided with value at low or no cost to you.”
